4 FOR THOSE WHO USE OUR APP

When you use the SkiStar app, we process personal data in order to provide the app's features and services. The data we process depends on how you interact with the app, for example when booking, purchasing, using map features, or contacting our AI agent. Terms of use can be found on the App Store or Google Play.

Specifically on location data (GPS)

The processing of location data takes place locally on your mobile phone but will also be stored on our servers to enable the promised functionality and for statistical purposes to further develop our services. If you want to change the app's access to your location data, go to the settings of your mobile phone. We only collect data during your stay and within the limits of our in-app map coordinates.

If you agree to allow our app to use your location data via your mobile phone settings, your location data will be used to display your current position on a map of the destination, nearby places, restaurants, and events. If you have authorized it, your current location data may also be visible to others in the app.

In the table below you can read about 1) the purpose for which we use your personal data (the purpose), 2) the categories of personal data we may use for each purpose and whether we have received the data from you or another source, 3) the legal basis on which we use your data and 4) when we stop processing your data for the stated purpose. If you want to read about when we delete your personal data, see section 7.

Specifically about SkiStar's AI agent

The app contains an AI-based feature that can answer questions and help you with tasks. Information you provide in chat, including text and images, is processed to provide you with service and handle tasks. Images are stored temporarily and deleted according to established procedures. The AI agent's responses are automatically generated and should be viewed as guidance. We do not make any automated decisions that have legal consequences. Interactions may be logged for troubleshooting and service improvement. Logs are pseudonymized or anonymized once the purpose has been achieved.

5 SPECIFICALLY ON PROFILING

Profiling under the GDPR means processing personal data to assess certain personal characteristics of you as a customer or member. We do this by analyzing your data and thus trying to predict your buying behavior or interests. By being able to predict your interests or future purchasing behavior, we have an opportunity to constantly improve our communication and offers according to your needs. Examples of profiling activities we perform are:

- Predict your travel preferences based on the destinations and activities you have previously purchased or viewed and then display promotions, which we think you will like, in our digital channels.
- Predict which offers may be of most interest to you based on your previous purchases at SkiStar, where, for example, if you have traveled with your family, you will receive offers on our best family accommodation.
- Analyze and draw conclusions about the type of trip you are likely to be interested in and e.g., make an offer for a relevant trip.

Profiling that we conduct is done for the purpose of "Marketing and information about SkiStar and SkiStar's products/services" for those who are Member members or for those who are private customers and have consented to marketing mailings. The categories of personal data that we use within the framework of processing and profiling and the legal basis on which we do this are stated during processing.

We do not conduct any so-called automated decision-making that has legal consequences or otherwise significantly affects you.

6 TO WHOM DO WE DISCLOSE YOUR PERSONAL DATA

To fulfill the agreement with you and to otherwise conduct our business, we may need to share your personal data with our subcontractors and partners. We only share personal data with them to the extent necessary for them to provide their services to you/us and they will only have access to the personal data that is necessary.

Subcontractors

To fulfill the purposes of our processing of your personal data, we share your personal data with companies that provide services to SkiStar, for example to manage the dispatch and delivery of your goods or to provide you with free parking. These companies may only process your personal data in accordance with our explicit instructions and may not use your data for their own purposes. They are also legally and contractually obliged to protect your personal data.

Suppliers of travel-related services

In some cases, we also share your personal data with companies that provide services directly to you on behalf of SkiStar, such as payment service companies, transportation companies, ski schools and accommodation providers such as hotels. Such suppliers only have access to the personal data needed to fulfill the booking. These suppliers are independent data controllers and are responsible for and manage personal data in accordance with each supplier's privacy policy.

IT suppliers

We use a number of different IT services and systems in our operations, some of which store and process personal data. Some systems are installed locally with us and only our staff have access to the data. In these cases, there is no transfer to third parties. However, some systems are cloud solutions or installed at the provider's premises and involve us transferring personal data to the provider. In these cases, the provider is our data processor and processes the data on our behalf and according to our instructions.

Web analytics and social media companies

We use external providers for personalization and analysis of user behavior on our websites and for user feedback. The data involved is data collected through cookies and processed at an anonymous and aggregated level. For example, you may see advertising when you are on other websites and apps, such as social media. This is delivered to you through our third-party advertising services. See more under the purpose "Personalized digital marketing" or in our cookie policy.

Within SkiStar

Our Privacy Policy applies to all group and subsidiary companies within SkiStar, which means that SkiStar AB has the same access to personal data as the specific destination or department you have been in contact with locally. However, with the limitation that the individual employee can only see information that is relevant to the performance of their duties.

Authority

If we are required by law or if the law allows, we may share personal data with government and public authorities to the extent necessary.

7 HOW LONG WE KEEP YOUR PERSONAL DATA

We will never keep data longer than we need to and will only use your personal data for the purposes set out in this policy. Thereafter, we will securely delete your personal data. However, the same personal data may be stored for different purposes, which means that we may delete data from one system when it is no longer needed there, while the data may continue to be stored in another system if the purpose for that processing remains. If data is needed after this period for analytical, historical, or other legitimate commercial purposes, we will take appropriate steps to anonymize that data so that it no longer constitutes personal data.

How long we keep your personal data depends on the purpose for which we use the data

1. Personal data that we are required to keep by law is kept for as long as the law requires, such as data required by accounting legislation, which is kept for 7 years.
 - a. If there are legal requirements, this means that SkiStar may not delete your personal data even if you request that it be deleted (read more about your rights in section).10
2. Personal data used for the contractual relationship between you and SkiStar is normally saved for as long as the contract is valid and thereafter for a maximum of 10 years due to rules on limitation (processing is necessary to establish, exercise or defend legal claims).

- b. We may also store data that is necessary for the establishment, exercise, or defense of legal claims based on our legitimate interest, which means that you do not necessarily need to have entered a contract with us. Data stored for this reason will not be deleted by SkiStar even if you request it (read more about your rights in section10).
- 3. The personal data we collect, and which is not necessary in view of limitation rules or for legal or contractual compliance (see points 1 and 2 above), will be kept in our customer database for five years based on our legitimate interest. If you interact with us within five years, data on previous bookings/products will be stored for another five years. The personal data is stored for your own sake, but also as a basis for market and customer analyzes and for statistical purposes to provide you with better booking offers and better service.
- 4. Personal data that we process in the context of your consent will be kept if the consent is valid and you do not withdraw it.
